

Dear _____,

Your task today is to be nice to someone who is different from you. Maybe they like to do something different than you do, or maybe they look different than you, or maybe they are older or younger.

One of the ways Jesus taught us to change the world is by being friends with people who aren't like us.

Report back to one of your parents about how your task goes!

Love,